Lalique "Line-imals"

Using the style of Renee Lalique's Dragonfly Woman Corsage, create a digital design of a bug, bird, or dragon made only of lines.

In creating this image, you must use a photograph of your own face.

Take a photo of yourself using your camera. Open your "selfie" in Photoshop and manipulate the color and proportions of your face from the picture. For your project, you must manipulate the color using various color adjustments, and use the liquify tool to make adjustments to the facial features.

Create an animal body in Illustrator using only lines. You may want to trace a template of your animal to get the look that you want.

Create a solid color background using the rectangle tool. This should be the only Illustrator shape in your document.

Add the photo of your face to finalize the piece.
Do not use special effects such as lens flares.
Be sure that the focus of this project is lines. Stay away from shapes.
You may include as many lines as you like. The lines can be as thin or THICK as you want.
Do not use character bodies that are easily recognizable from other resources which may be subject to copyright infringement.

Be sure to name your final document, Lastnamefi_Lineimal.ai (smithj_lineimal.ai). Upload your document to the Google drop box using the link on mccrayart.com